

THE TIFFANY I

When DePinto & Associates began building custom single-family homes in 1975, their very first job – the DePinto family home – set the standard for the new company. Today DePinto & Associates is still a family-owned business dedicated to quality, not quantity.

Together the family has seen the business grow solely by word-of-mouth over the past 20 years. The DePinto family attributes their success to satisfied homeowners. And despite the growth the company has experienced, they remain committed to their original philosophy that has become a trademark of DePinto & Associates: Personal concern for the quality of their work, rather than quantity.
