

Kenneth Preston's GATSBY series of homes are unique in the marketplace. Designed around the Courtyard Home concept, the GATSBY series incorporate maximum flexibility of interior design with the option of three basic exterior styles. By combining modular features with exterior and courtyard styling, each and every home becomes a custom home project designed within the budgetary confines usually attributed to development tracts.

As this brochure goes to press, the combination of interior floor plans with exterior styling yields over 400 different homes.

Utilizing our modular approach, our client selects an exterior style, a cabana layout, a garage configuration, a family room-kitchen plan, living-room / dining room combination, and bedroom suite alternatives which tie to four pre-determined construction points. Through this copyrighted design system, this flexibility enables our client to determine exactly what needs they have and how they can best be met.
